THE CASE OF ANNA BEL

THERE HAVE ALREADY BEEN A has been keeping company with COUPLE OF ARRESTS AND END NOT YET.

TRULY GHASTLY STORY REVEALED

Coroner R. T. Miller, a Jury and County Attorney Dow Are investigating the Case and Will Go to the Bottom of It.

Dr. W. T. Simonds, not young Dr Simonds, was arrested by Deputy Constable Farmer Sunday, charged with having performed a criminal operation on Anna Bell, a 19-year-old domestic, who died under mysterious circumstances at the home of G. H. Corbett, south of Sedalia, Saturday.

The prisoner is now lodged in the county jail, pending the filing of an information charging the foregoing offense by Prosecutor Dow.

Today Everett Casto, a laborer liv ing near Warsaw, was arrested by county authorities, charged with having had carnal knowledge of the Bell girl, which resulted in a criminal operation being performed. Casto will be brought to Sedalia and lodged in jail, pending the action of Prosecutor Dow.

The coroner's jury, which is investigating the circumstances leading up to the girl's death, is still in session, and so far in the investigation facts of a ghastly nature have been reveal-it to town and placed it beside the mother at the morgue of the Sedalia Undertaking Co.

Early this morning Coroner Miller and Deputy Constable Farmer drove to Corbett's home, where the exhumed a fetus, advanced to a seven months' stage, which was buried about seventy-five yards from Cor bett's house.

The facts revealed at the inquest are almost unfit for print. Corbett, who is an elderly man, told on the witness stand how he happened to learn of the girl, saying that he accidentally ran across Dr. Simonds at a railway station here, and Dr. Simonds had requested him to visit the home of John Stott, where the young girl was staying, so that he might get acquainted with her.

Corbett says he declined the invitation, but as he was going in Stott' neighborhood he dropped in and saw the girl, who appeared to be greatly depressed.

Sympathizing with Miss Bell, Cor bett advised that she accompany him home, so he said, where she might have attention. She acquiesced, and went to Corbett's home, six miles south of town. Shortly after her arri val there she was taken ill and Dr. Simonds came.

The latter and Corbett assisted the girl in her confinement, and immediately after the delivery wrapped the fetus in paper and rags, covered with a sack, and buried it a short distance from Corbett's home. The girl lived two weeks after confine

The back of the head of the fetus was crushed, and today Dr. Ferguson was called to examine to decide whether or not instruments were used in the delivery,

A post mortem examination was held Sunday and the bedy gave evi dence of a criminal operation having been performed.

A brother and uncle of the dead girl drove to Sedalia from southeast of Cole Camp last night, arriving at 3:30 o'clock this morning, and this afternoon the girl's father, William Bell, a well to do farmer, residing on the boundary line between Benton and Camden counties, will arrive in response to a telegram from Coroner

Among the witnesses examined were the following: J. H. Mertz, who testified to having filled a prescription for the girl; John Brown, a ne gro, who was with her at the time of her death; John Stott, at whose home the girl stayed for a time; J T. Stinson, at whose home the girl formerly worked; Will Clifford, who sold spirits for the benefit of the girl, and Dr. W. J. Ferguson.

After several fruitless attempts to be at hand when an anticipated band of train robbers made their appearance, the secret service department of the Missouri Pacific has discontinued guarding Missouri Pacific train No. 4, known as the "Bankers' Special," between Kansas City and St. Louis, which train they expected was to be held up and robbed at some se-

"Under a train shed at the Union depot near a Missouri Pacific train due to leave at 9:15 o'clock last night for St. Louis stood a man, half sheltered from a driving rain. Two of them also carried rines and one of these carried a valise, which contained two large revolvers.

All boarded the train. "Several days ago an official of the Missouri Pacific railway received an anonymous warning that the night train to St. Louis was to be held up. There are two Missouri Pacific night trains to St. Louis and the secret last Thursday night these trains have armed men aboard."

A TWELVE-YEAR OPPORTUNITY WASTED.

Because of the inability of the senate and the house to agree upon the provisions of a currency bill, the probability is there will be no financial legislation by this session of congress. Of course, the country will survive. The world would not come to an end if congress never passed any more laws. At the same time, there is no question that good laws are generally good things, and conversely that bad laws as a rule are bad things. It is conceded by every one without regard to party that the currency laws of the nation are very bad. Moreover, this fact has been admitted for the past twelve years, or since the people for the first time made an analytical study of the financial system. During these twelve years banking and note issues have been constant subjects of discussion in and out of congress, with the result that an investigation some four years ago crystalized into a widespread demand by the commecrial and financial interests, backed by the people generally, for currency re-

December, January, February, March, April and May in which to act, and what was done? Nothing! Both houses loafed away the winter and did not even pretend to consider financial legislation until spring. The senate has been adjourning Thursdays and Fridays over to the following week, because "there was nothing to do."

The house has been killing time with fruitless talk on miscellaneous subjects, with all important bills tied up in committees. There is not only to be no financial legislation, but no important legislation of any character that the people have demanded and expected. The business. commercial, industrial and agricul tural interests of the country have been suffering loss and inconven ience for years because of our faulty financial system, and periodically they have been subjected to disastrous effects from its workings. But they are to have no relief. A donothing congress winds up a twelveyear opportunity without any action whatever.

Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Fal kenhainer Contends That State Officer's Position Is Wrong.

St. Louis, Mo., May 25.—State Factory Inspector Sikes has received from Attorney General Hadley and his assistant, John Kennish, opinions as to the legality of collecting inspection fees in factories in which only the proprietor works or is found

The request for a decision on the point grew out of the case of Herman Adolph, a tailor at 3845 Finney avenue, St. Louis, who, on March 18, last, refused to pay the inspection fee of 50 cents on the ground that he was not running a factory.

SPECIAL ELECTION BE HELD IN NORTH CAROLINA TOMORROW.

THE OUTLOOK GOOD FOR THE DRYS

Believed That State-Wide Prohibition Will Be Adopted and All Saloons Will Quit Business January 1, Next.

Raleigh, N. C., May 25.-Another state may be added to the totally na tomorrow. While the "wets" have made a desperate battle, it is considered almost certain that the drys will win a sweeping victory, and that all the saloons in the Old North State will be forced to close their doors on January 1, next, when the

So far as a considerable portion o the state is concerned, the passage of a prohibition measure will involve little change from present conditions Liquid refreshments of an alcoholic nature are now legally obtainable in but a score of the seventy counties of North Carolina. This result has been accomplished by the local option law, under, which all the important cities of the state, except Wilmington, Salisbury and Winston Salem have abolished saloons. Sev enteen counties now have dispensa ries, but these will be put out of business by prohibition.

While, public sentiment against the tensive crusade and have utilized ev. Bard Drug Co. ry possible method of turning pub lic sentiment against the saloons. Governor Glenn has been a leader in the temperance movement and has covered a considerable portion of the state, stumping for prohibition, during the campaign. Prominent ju rists, lawyers, legislators and other public men have also taken part in the crusade against the rum demon, with the end of making the assurance of prohibition doubly sure. United States Judge Porter C. Pritchard has delivered several addresses, and three ex-governors, nearly all the North Carolina congressmen and speakers from other states have assisted in the movement. Ex-Gorver nor Jarvis has been one of the leaders of the crusade. In tomorrow's election only regis tered and qualified voters, who paid their poll tax prior to May 1, will be allowed to participate. This will largely eliminate the blacks and the poor white trash" of the cities and back woods districts would likely to favor a wet regime. Two ballots will be used, one reading for the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors," and the other 'against" that proposition.

The campaign in North Carolina has been marked by the religious, ethical and emotional appeals that have been so effective in other states and cities of the south. Meetings have been held in every school house and church, the speakers demanding in an impassioned manner "the saving of the children and the home." Women and children, praying and singing have held meetings in the streets, and banners and posters bearing prohibition sentiments have appeared everywhere. Temperance literature has been spread broadcast throughout the state. The prohibition campaign in North Carclina had its inception immediate fol, wing the disfranchisement of the negativoters eight years ago. At that time there were saloons in nearly every county in the commonwealth and hundreds of distillers. most of which have already been put out of business, were running at their full capacity. The distilling industry was a large and important one, but the prohibitionists assert that the state has been more prosperous since most of them have been abolished than before.

Pastor Had Interfered as a Peace maker in His Assailant's Quarrel Saturday-Priest Taken to St. Louis.

Salisbury, Mo, May 25 .- As the re sult of an attempt to act in the role Schutte and John Legendre, Father Lubeley, of St. Joseph Catholic church, was assaulted by Schutte at the conclusion of services at that church Sunday and stabbed twice. Mrs. Albert Ginter and Gerald Goetz, who came to the assistance of the priest, were also stabbed.

Father Lubeley's wounds are dangerous, but not necessarily fatal, one stag wound being in the neck, near the jugular vein, and the other over the eye. He was cared for by a local physician and lafer taken to St Louis, being accompanied by Bishop Benacum, who was at the church. Father Lubeley is well known in Northern Missouri. He formerly had a parish at Chicago.

Mrs. Ginter and Goetz were cut in several places, but their wounds are not considered serious.

The assault was made in the presence of the entire congregation, and caused a small panic in the church. Half a dozen men went to the assist-The Rev. J. W. GOING AMONG GRANGERS

SENATOR WILL APPEAL DIRECT LY TO THE COUNTRY VOTERS.

WHITE CARINE HE GOES ON RECORD IN THE MATTER | pealed the case.

Says His Friends Are Telling Him That the Cities and Towns Are for Him, But Country is for Folk.

Senator William Joel Stone arrived in Kansas City yesterday morning MANY SPORTING EVENTS and at once cleared the decks for ac tion, says Sunday's Kansas City Journal. He is preparing for the hottest senatoria! fight Missouri has seen since the times of old Bullion.

"They tell me," said the senior senator, "that the 'towns are for me, but that the country is against me. I mean to have this denied, and deried by the country. I shall appeal to the country. Within a few days. depending upon when congress adjourns, I will go into the field, and I will start in the country. I want to hear the country speak. The representatives from the country districts whom I have met have not told me what the other side is saying. They have chosen the field, and I will meet them on it. I appeal to the country.'

To Senator Stone was told what one of the so-called Folk strikers had ing: said at the Jefferson City milling, that "Folk will get the most votes at the primary, but that the legislators elected will refuse to be instructed and will bolt."

"They will not bolt to me, then, declared Senator Stone. "We are not going to fight that way. I would was supported by Representative not have the senatorship by sharp practice. Everything is to be open Reeder charged that the bill was and fair and manly on this side. Think of it, the biggest fleet afloat, with the great stars and stripes at the tops with every collier and every suppl ship in and about flying foreign col ors! Does this country know that when we sent American soldiers to Cuba a few weeks ago they were sent in British ships because we had none of our own? We did not have a single transport I came from the Philippine islands last year, and was at Honolulu. I did not dare leave the ship to visit the small islands or the mainland because if it went on without me I might have had to wait from two to four weeks for another American ship. There were plenty of foreign ships passing. all available, but do the people know that there is a fine of $200 for every passenger sailing from one American port to another American port in foreign ship? I heard a senator say on the floor of the senate that he had been fined $200, and a member of congress before a committee made the same statement.

"I want free ships. I want nothing but American flags in the American navy. I do not want our battleships to depend upon foreign coa! ships to let them go from one port to another. I want Americans to have the right to buy their ships where they please. I rode in a ship owned by an American, sailing from an American port, but flying the British flag. This was shameful. The Japanese are crowding us out of the Pacific because we cannot have free ships. We must have them, or get off all the seas. Japan buys its ships where it pleases, and gives them a Japanese registry, so they can start trading. I want Americans to have the same right. The few American ship builders do not want this. The ecommerce of the country is suffering in consequence. Look at that big neet Admiral Evans took around the horn, see how sacredly the picture bcoks photographed the fleet when their arteries and pulses-the coal ships and supply boats-with their foreign flags were out of sight; look at that state of affairs and tell me if we ought not to have the right to buy ships when we need them? EVERY MUNICIPALITY WHICH HAS DEPRIVED ITSELF OF THE REVENUE FROM THE LIQUOR BUSINESS IS FACE TO FACE WITH A DEFICIT. CAN SEDALIA ESCAPE?

The Pendulum for June says: "John W. Grant, chairman of the finance committee of the Atlanta, Ga., common council, and Comptroller Goldsmith estimate that the city's deficit caused by prohibition will be $22,000.

They also estimate that Atlanta property valued at $550,000 will be made useless by the enforcement of prohibition. In the entire state of Georgia they figure, there will be $5,000,000 worth of property that will become valueless.

They estimate that 1,500 men, with approximately 6,000 persons dependent upon them, will be thrown out of work by the closing of the Atlanta saloons and that 15,000 men will be thrown out of work in the entire state.

There is one source of revenue that was made by the enactment of the prohibition law, a source that was a surprise to the prohibitionists. Many clubs were incorporated under the general law applying to corporations in Georgia and these clubs paid the usual fee to city and state. Fifteen were organized in the city of Savannah alone in the first two months of prohibition. They bought liquor outside the state and it was shipped into Savannah by express.

"There was no secret about these clubs," writes William E. Curtis, the eminent newspaper correspondent and author, who investigated prohibition in the south, "and many of the most reputable business and professional men in the city belonged to them."

Curtis also says. "So far as public drinking is concerned, the law is effective, but everybody agrees that there has been very little if any change in the amount of liquor consumed by the upper classes in their private houses and at their clubs."

This is simply history repeating itself. In the early days of every prohibition experiment the poor man, being unable to buy at wholesale, or to ship liquor or beer from another state, was compelled to go without it; while the man in more fortunate circumstances could get it at his club, or, if necessary, organize a club through which he could obtain it, or could afford to ship it from another state.

It followed, as a matter of course, that the poor man in time found a way to circumvent the law, or he deliberately broke it.

Any attempt to prevent one man from having something to which he has a right and which another man can obtain must certainly fail in this country, where the question of the equality of all men was settled on the Fourth of July, 1776.

The spirit of liberty and independence is so strong that, while there may be apparent acquiescence in the taking away of rights, there is sure to be resistence under the surface."

Call and see the Landman Abstract nings. The first recorded finding of iron within the United States was in North Carolina in 1585. The first effort to manufacture it was in Virginia in 1610. The first export of bar iron to England was in 1717, and of pig iron in 1728. Until 1750 Massachusetts led in the manufacture of iron, when Pennsylvania took the lead and has retained it. Over 40 000,000 tons of iron were mined in Michigan alone last year. Next to iron, the most valuable mineral production of this country is copper, of which enough is produced annually to give every American man, woman and child $2 worth each if it were divided out. In Arizona alone the production of copper in 1906 was $54,

One of the earliest finds of gold in the United States was referred to by Thomas Jefferson in his diary. It was a lump of pure gold found on the Rappahannock river, Virginia. How many millions of gold are produced every year? The Cripple Creek district in Colorado alone has produced over $125,000,000. In California's palmy days as much as $60, and vitality, builds up the system and 000,000 worth of gold was produced in a single year. The surface of Alaska has been only scratched, but up wards of $6,000,000 worth of gold is produced there annually. Alaska is said to contain the richest gold deposits in the world, the gold placer field in Seward peninsula alone alone containing 20,000 square miles. THE FAMOUS SALOME DANCE

NEW YORK, N.Y

It Was Too Risque for the Queen and Was Called Off.

London, May 26.—The queen's tack has again averted a scandal. When Queen Alexandra's secretary heard that Maud Allan, who was invited to dance before the king and queen after a dinner at the Earl of Dudley's mansion, intended to dance the famous vision of Salome, there was consternation in Buckingham palace.

When the queen learned the nature of the dance she protested and Miss Allan got a tip that the dance was altogether too risque for the Woman in Trance Placed in Coffin Supposed to Be Dead.

London, May 25 .- A woman named Mrs. Carton, of Tombridge, has been through one of the most terrible ordeals ever known. She fell irto a trance after a short illness, and was placed in a coffin in the belief that she was dead. She tay silent, unable to move or speak, while preparations Guenther's store. Sedalia, Mo. for her funeral were going on all

Mrs. Carton's husband was distracted with grief when, a few days ago, he found her apparently dead after a few days' illness. All arrangements were made for the funeral; a coffin was brought and the woman was laid in it. Then, just as the coffin was about to be screwed down, Mr. Carton asked to be left alone with the body for a moment. He bent over his wife to kiss her for the last time. The cheek on which his lips rested was warm. His wife was alive.

The man, dazed with joy and wonder, sent at once for a doctor, who confirmed his hopes. The doctor ordered the woman to be removed at once to the hospital. Her condition rapidly improved and she is now well on the way to recovery.

"I knew everything which was going on around me," the woman said, but I could not move. I could not speak even when I saw that they thought I was dead."

Even when she was put in her coffin, and it seemed almost certain that she would be buried alive, she was unable to utter a word to save her-title in competition, with all famous WISCONSIN SIN AY SCHOOLS Treasures Found in Our American Forests.

That our American forests abound in plants which possess the most valuable medicinal virtues is abundantly attested by scores of the most emine w medical writers and teachers of this and other countries. Even the untiloged Indians had discovered the usefulness of many native plants before the advent of the white race. This information, imparted freely to the whites, led the latter to continue investigations until to-day we have a rich assortment of most valuable American medicinal roots.

Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. V., believes that our American forests abound in medicinal roots for the cure of most obstinate and fatal diseases, if we would properly investigate them, and, in confirmation by this conviction, he points with pride to the most marvelous cures effected by his "Golden Medical Discovery," which has proven itself to be the most efficient stomach tonic, liver invigorator, heart tonic and regulator, and blood cleanser known to medical science. Dyspepsia, or indigestion, torpid liver, functional and even valvular and other affections of the heart yield to its curative action.

The reason why "Golden Medical Dis- and other displace, rents caused by covery" cures these and many other weakness, ulceration of uterus and affections, is clearly shown in a little kindred affections, often after many book of extracts from the standard other advertised medicines and physimedical works which is mailed free to cians had failed. any address by Dr. R.
